2 OXLEY CREEK COMMON

Sherwood Road, Rocklea 4106

One quarter of Australia's native bird species have been spotted at the Common, along with migratory birds from as far away as Japan and Russia. This large green space hosts a diverse range of landscapes including freshwater wetlands, agricultural grasslands, and a hoop pine forest. The Common is a great place for a leisurely walk, a picnic, or a bird spotting adventure.

1. Secret Forest Walk (3.5km return)
 2. Pelican Island Walk (4.6km return)

The Oxley Creek Parkland corridor boasts an amazing collection of natural landscapes, including mangrove lined creek edges, eucalypt forests, open grasslands and freshwater wetlands.

Our expanding range of walking and cycling trails allow visitors to immerse themselves in these diverse settings to enjoy nature and find adventure.

When enjoying Oxley Creek's tracks and trails, make sure you:

- Wear a hat, sunscreen and carry water.
- Wear comfortable footwear.
- Let someone know where you are going, and when you plan to return.
- Follow all safety or closure signage on the trail.
